

8000 ENROLLED
IN RED CROSS
AT NOON TODAY

time to allow his signals to be understood. In fact, it is said at headquarters that the electric company had to send relief firemen down into the boiler room to relieve the poor fellow who was trying to keep up enough steam.

At 8 o'clock, Mr. Rath was running in and out of headquarters raising the mercury in the thermometer, and just as the Hawaiian band assembled in front of the building and started up with "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," the thermometer hit the 1000 mark. Before 10 o'clock there were 4500 memberships reported to the staff.

At exactly 9:40 o'clock this morning, Mr. Beardman, at Dalala telephoned to A. L. Castle that he had received 940 applications for membership in the Red Cross. In the suburban districts, No. 6, Manoa Valley, led the rest of the city at 10 o'clock with 374 subscriptions. Mrs. F. E. Blake is captain. District No. 7, West Punahou, under the leadership of Mrs. C. H. Cooke, had signed up 213 members.

Ad Club Aids Work
The Ad Club, whose headquarters are located at the information booth in the lobby of the Alexander Young hotel, had charge of the downtown business districts, and early this morning, a huge corps of busy men were out on the streets signing up the passerby. At 10 o'clock the Ad Clubbers had turned in 647 applications, and their total had reached 1000 by 11 o'clock. These businessmen had complete charge of the business districts, and are expected to turn in several thousand applications before the drive closes tonight.

The Hawaiian band started from the corner of Fort and Beretania at 8:15 o'clock this morning, and boarded a special street car. They were taken around town to all the different districts where they serenaded the workers and the people who were subscribing to the Red Cross unit.

There was to have been a parade of 100 soldiers of the hospital corps with several Red Cross ambulances this morning, but up until noon no sign of the demonstration was seen. The parade was to have formed at Aala park at 11:30 and headed by the Hawaiian band, proceed through the central city districts. The soldiers with their equipment may possibly arrive in the city sometime this afternoon and parade as per planned although late.

Boy Scouts Do Bit
Several hundred Boy Scouts, under the capable handling of R. N. Burnham, chief scout master, are among the Red Cross workers. A large corps of the boys in khaki were stationed at Palama settlement early this morning and are escorting lady workers who are canvassing in that district. Several detachments of the scouts were on hand at the Irwin site to keep the crowds back from the balloon.

Balloon Collapses
Although the big aerial stunt of the day collapsed under the strain of the excitement, the air was filled with other evidences of the campaign. A number of boys from Mills school are flying a huge box kite, accompanied by five smaller ones. Each kite carries a Red Cross banner, and can be seen from nearly all parts of Honolulu.

There were few people at noon who appeared down town without their Red Cross tag. When the sleepy-eyed resident awoke this morning his paper reminded him of the fact that this was the day he should subscribe to the noble cause. When he walked to his car, automobiles flew by bearing Red Cross banners. The tenders of the Rapid Transit street cars bore signs urging people to join the Red Cross. Down town, huge banners were strung across the streets, blaring forth the news that this was the day for the big drive. And in Red Cross headquarters, silent tableaux drove home the story of suffering on the battlefield.

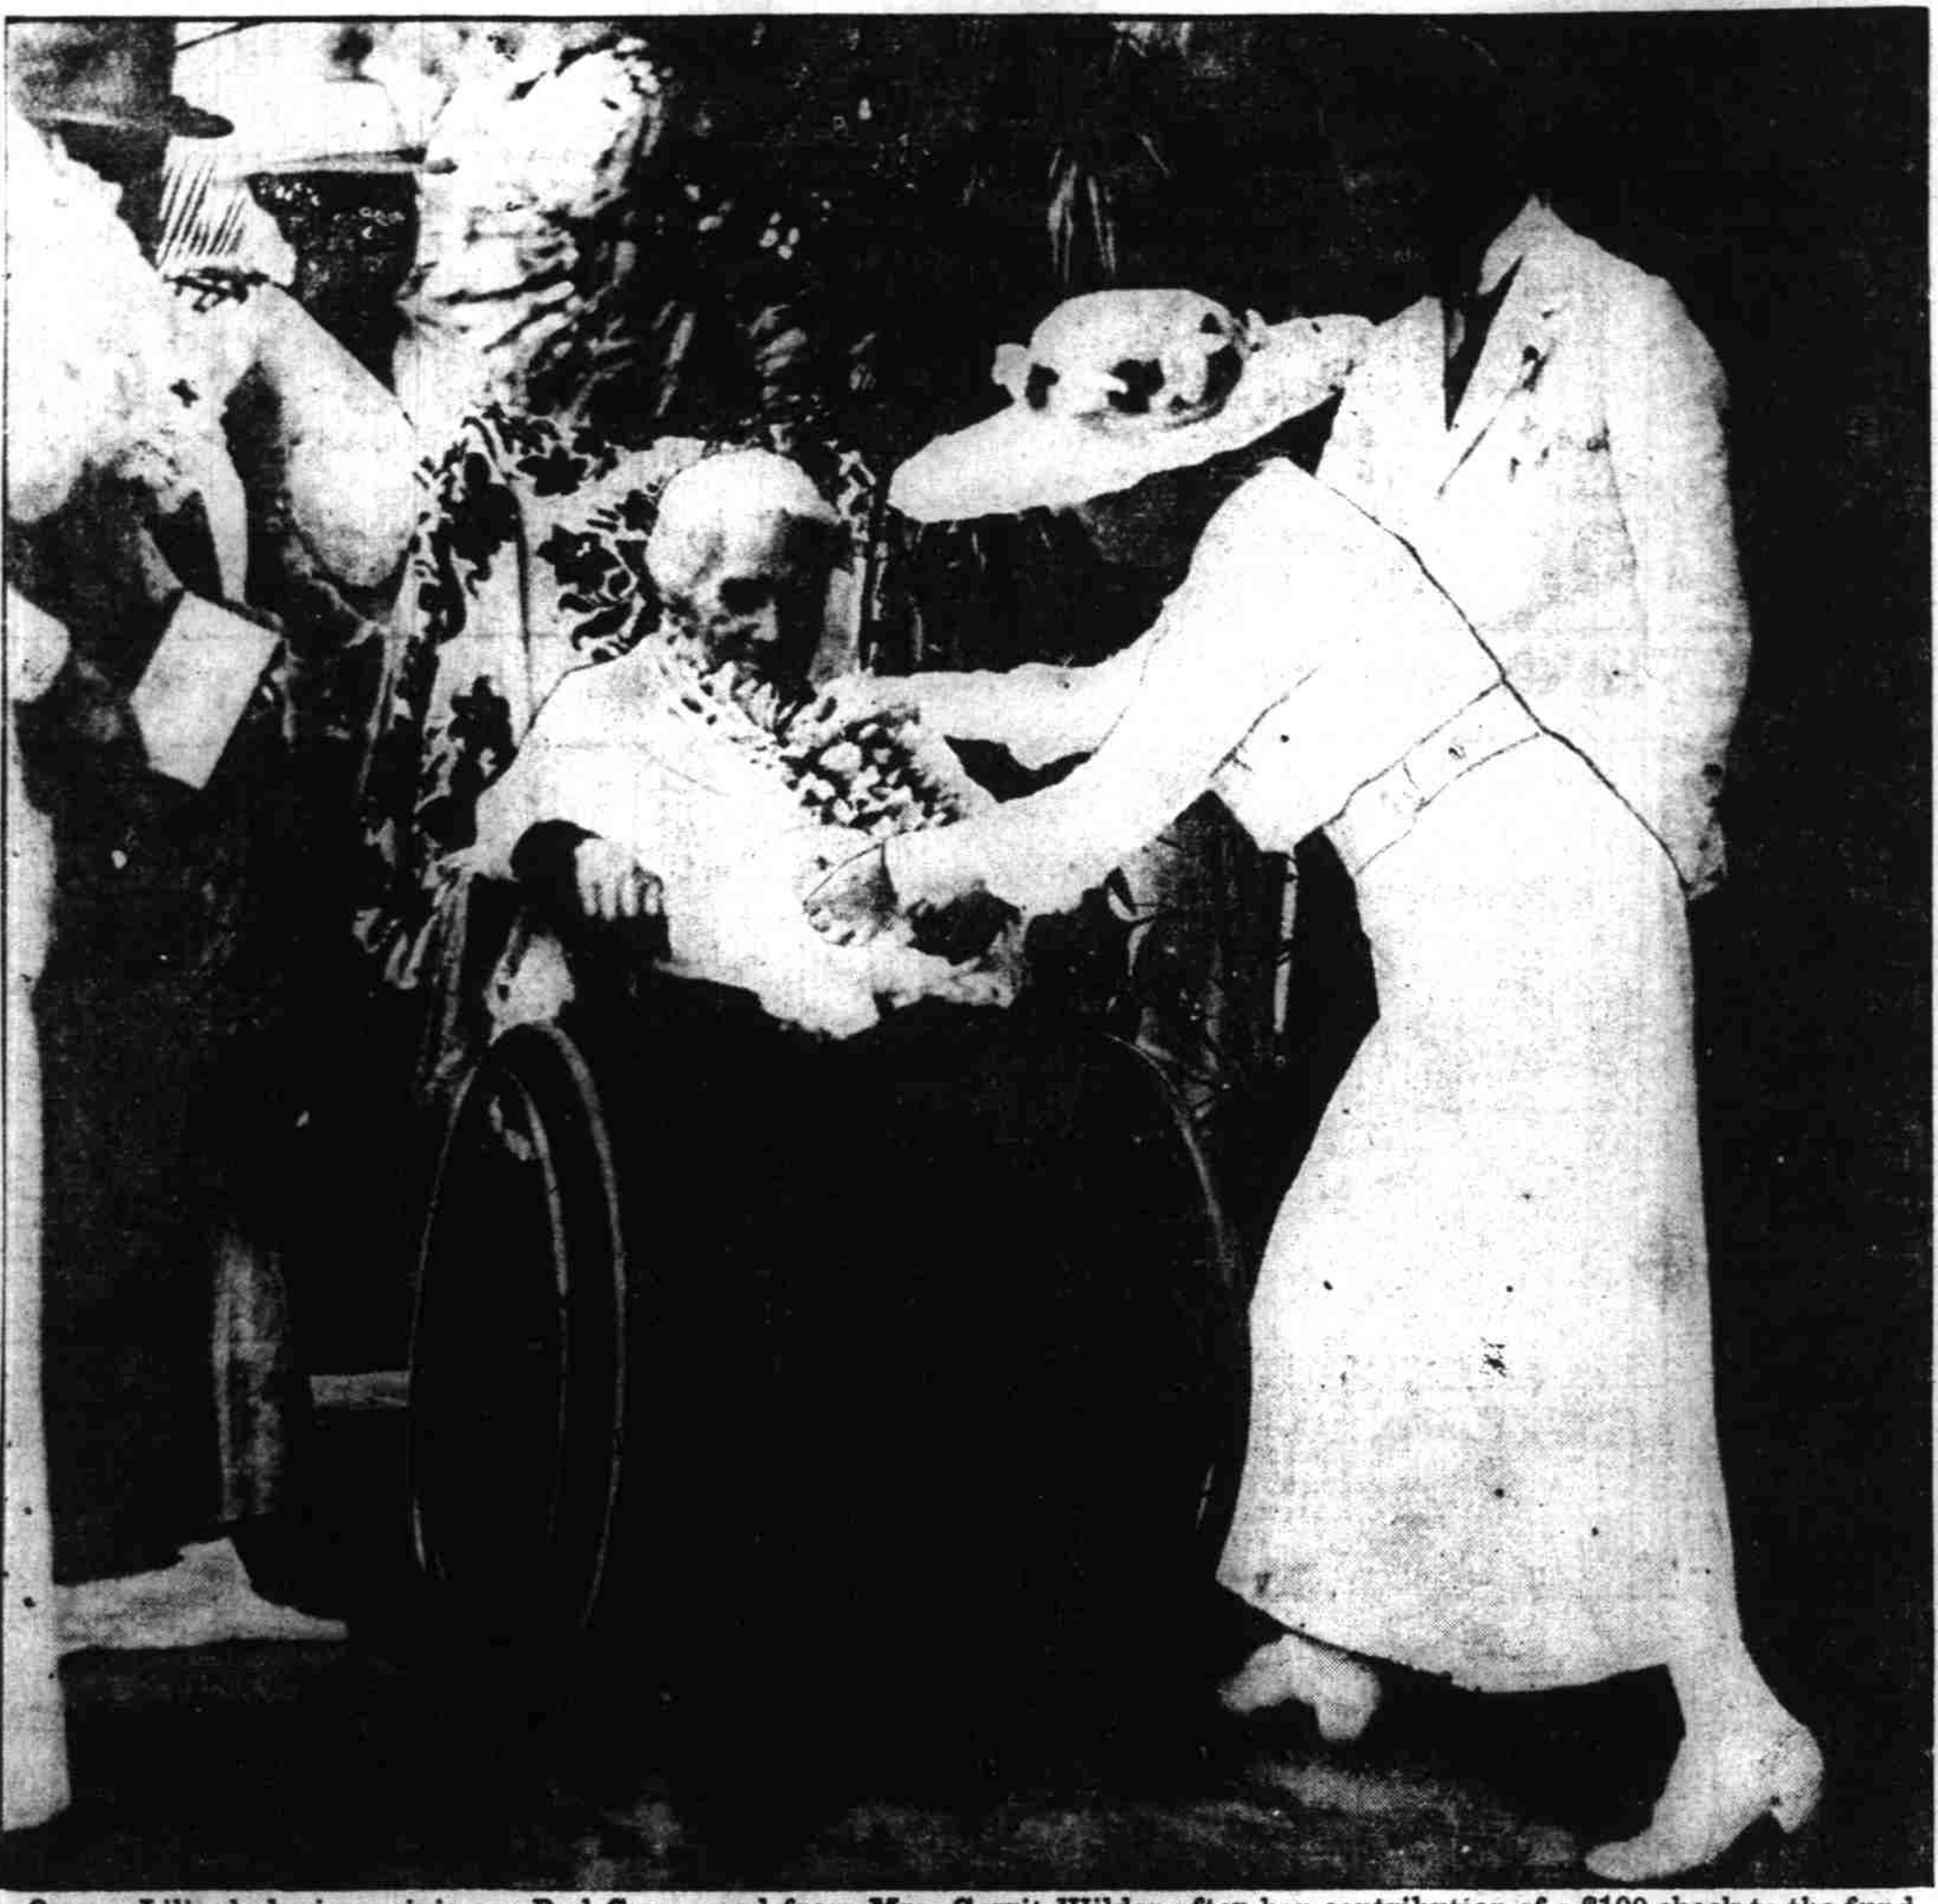

In one window was a figure of a stricken soldier, lying on a clean white cot, attended by a uniformed nurse, and treated with sanitary medicines. Signs in the window informed the public that this soldier was receiving Red Cross treatment. In the next window was the wax figure of a wounded fighter, rolling on a heap of dirty straw, his blood-soaked wounds oozing up in soiled wrappings. The picture told the story, and no one who realized what it meant passed headquarters without signing an application for membership.

The staff at headquarters is under the direction of James A. Rath, whose telephone number is 6162. He is assisted by J. N. Waldron and Ben Clark, who are totalling up the figures as soon as they are reported over the wire. Mrs. Gerrit P. Wilder, captain of District 1, is also at headquarters, assisted by Mrs. James Judd, Mrs. Richard Ivers, Mrs. John Walker and Mrs. George Potter. The other division at headquarters is being directed by Mrs. H. R. Macfarlane, assisted by Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. Henry Waterhouse, Mrs. Richard Cooke and Mrs. Vivian Dyer. Mrs. Robert Elgin is in charge of the information desk and the messengers are being directed by E. T. Chase. The Japanese committee is being represented by T. Kawasaki, stenographers, clerks and assistants who are aiding in the distribution and tallying of the applications are: Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Wright, Miss Smythe, Carl Schaefer, Charles Herbert and Gus Ballentyne.

Waiola Plantation and district, in charge of Stanley Beardmore, subscribed $1075 to the Red Cross before noon. At the time the subscription was received it represented 14 per cent of the total.

MISS KATE SADLER a nurse for the territorial board of health in the Hilo division, has just returned from a vacation trip to the mainland. She will leave for Hilo this afternoon.

Liliuokalani Becomes Red Cross Member
As Whistles Signify 8000 Mark Is Reached

Queen Liliuokalani receiving a Red Cross card from Mrs. Gerrit Wilder after her contribution of a $100 check to the fund.

Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani today became a patron member of the American Red Cross. Seated in her wheel chair on the broad lanai of her home at Washington place she handed over to Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, chairman of division No. 1, the hundred dollar check which gave her patron membership in the national organization. Mrs. Wilder in turn placed one of the little Red Cross cards in the venerable lady's hands and thanked her for the generous gift.

"It is with the deepest appreciation that I accept this gift from you on behalf of the Red Cross," said Mrs. Wilder. "This is another of your many deeds of kindness and generosity."

Queen Liliuokalani bowed gently and a sweet smile came over her face. She spoke a word or two in answer, turning to Mrs. Wilder and to Mrs. William Todd and Mrs. E. White Sutton, the other members of the visiting committee.

Col. Curtis P. Lauka, the queen's secretary, pointed to the card which she held, telling her that she was now a member of the organization for which it stood. People all over the city are giving to this cause, he said. "And you are the eight thousandth," Col. Lauka told her.

LONG DISTANCE
SET BY HAWAII

"The High Power Radio Station," as it was planned to be, and is supposed to have power for the transmission of messages a longer distance than any other in the world—not excepting the reputed big power plants of Germany.

The messages to the secretary of the navy and the one sent by him were wirelessly a distance of approximately 6000 miles across half the Pacific and over the mountains and prairies of the whole continent lying between the Pacific and the Atlantic coasts. No relay was necessary, or is possible, so long as the local station and the Long Island one are set for direct receipt and despatch of messages. They are both so powerful that other stations cannot cut in to their "air circuit," it is asserted.

Naturally, details of the construction, extent of the power and other facts regarding the new Pearl Harbor station are maintained as navy secrets. But when the construction work on this station was started in February, 1917, it was announced that 12 miles of one-quarter inch copper aerial wire was to be used on the three masts at the government station at Pearl Harbor. The masts, which are 600 feet high, are 1000 feet apart and it is estimated that the wire used weighs 12½ tons.

KERENSKY GIVEN
COLD RECEPTION
BY BOLSHEVIKI

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.)
PETROGRAD, Russia, Sept. 29.—Commander-in-Chief Kerensky met with a hostile reception today by the friends of the Bolshevik party when he addressed a meeting of democratic delegates in this city.

In a forceful speech, Kerensky defended the acts of the provisional government which, he declared, were done for the purpose of bringing the army to a realization of the peril in which their disloyalty was placing the nation.

Referring to the refusal of the soldiers at Helsinki to reopen the Finnish diet, at which the Bolshevik delegates cheered, the Slav leader shouted "Cheer, my friends, cheer, but bear in mind that the German fleet is moving up the Baltic."

DENIES GERMANY MADE
OFFER TO YIELD BELGIUM

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.)
COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Sept. 29.—Questioned by the members of the committee of the reichstag regarding the report that Germany was willing to evacuate Belgium on the condition that she be allowed direct the economic development of that country, Chancellor Michaelis denied there was any truth in the report that Germany had in advance renounced Belgium or any other of the occupied territories. He declared that Germany would have her hands free when the time came to negotiate peace terms with her enemies.

NEW APPOINTEES
WILL NOT ALTER
OFFICE FORCES

The office forces in the city and county engineer's department and in the city and county waterworks department where there is to be a change of heads taking effect Monday, will remain the same as now for at least a month.

A. S. Cantin, recently appointed city and county engineer who takes office Monday, remarked today when he called upon the present incumbent of the position, George M. Collins, that he would retain the present staff in its entirety. Fred G. Kerchhoff, present superintendent of the sewers department who becomes superintendent of the waterworks department the day after tomorrow, also said today that there would be no changes in the staff under Harry E. Murray, who is leaving.

George M. Collins, who vacates the position of city and county engineer to become connected with the Bishop Estate, is loud in praise of the way his successor, A. S. Cantin, is grasping the reins of the office.

"I have the utmost confidence in my successor to give the city and county what it is looking for in the way of efficient administration of its public works department and the solution of its road problems. "During the two days he has been around with me on a survey of the work I have discovered that he is a real good man and fitted for the work which he is to take up. "While I am on the subject I want to say that I have enjoyed my service with the city and county and in a way regret to leave at a time when so many new improvements are about to take place. "I appreciate the help which has been given me by my staff and I want to thank them all for their aid. In conclusion I want to wish my successor good luck in his new work."

LANSING OPPOSES
DRAFT OF ALIENS

Declares Treaties Revision is Necessary First to Avoid Embarrassment
(Special Cablegram to Nippon Jiji)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30.—In answer to the request from the house military committee that way be opened for drafting the Japanese, Chinese and Italian aliens in the United States for the national army, Secretary of State Lansing appeared today before the house body and declared that congress must not adopt any such plan unless a revision of the existing treaties with the three countries in question is secured.

The plan of the house military committee for drafting alien Japanese, Chinese and Italians is that these aliens on being drafted will be given the full American citizenship, waiving the requirement of first naturalization papers.

FUNDS ARE DONATED FOR DREDGING POOL
AT Y. W. BEACH HOUSE

For the dredging out of the beach in front of the Y. W. C. A. beach house to provide for a sandy bottomed pool, a person who declines to make his or her name public has promised the association what funds it needs. The work will begin probably next week.

'BIG FOUR'S' STRATEGY OUTWITS
'OUTLAWS'; MAYOR'S MEN WIN OUT

Majority Confirms Mayor's Appointments and Then to Make Doubly Sure They Can't Be Ejected By Recourse to Law, Duplicates Same Appointments in the Name of the Board—Ahia Shows Fight

For the purpose of avoiding any legal questions such as the one which arose at the meeting Tuesday evening regarding Mayor Joseph J. Fern's appointive powers, the "Big Four" at the meeting last night of the board of supervisors made assurance doubly sure in making seven appointments and reappointments by the name submitted by the mayor and then one of the supervisors putting forward the same name and the board making the appointment.

As a result each of the seven men appointed last night for civic positions were given first the approval of the mayor and the board and then the approval of the board itself. So that if A. M. Cristy, deputy city and county attorney, who was not present last night, submits at the next meeting that the mayor has the appointive power, the seven men confirmed are sure of their positions and if on the other hand the attorney declares the board has the appointive power and not the mayor the seven men are sure of their positions in any case.

The seven men who were given the Order of the Double Appointment last night were: Lewis S. Cain for building inspector, Sam Lehua for garbage inspector, John Klerman for plumbing inspector, Dr. C. R. McLean for meat inspector, Dr. William T. Monsarrat for veterinarian and veterinary surgeon, R. P. Waipa and George Fern fish inspectors.

"The Outlaws," led by Supervisor Charles N. Arnold, staged a verbal bombardment in the case of several of the appointments, but the "Big Four" refused to heed his eloquence and the appointments were made despite his strenuous objections and that of his colleagues, Supervisors Ben Hollinger and William Ahia. Ahia Shows Fight

Supervisor Ahia, usually as silent as the Sphinx, burst into unexpected oratory on several occasions, causing considerable laughter and cheering. His first outburst was when Supervisor McClellan moved, at the request of John H. Wise, superintendent of Kapiolani park, for a month's vacation to be referred to the parks committee. Supervisor Ahia pointed out that a vacation had been granted to Henry Freitas, building inspector, and that the idea of referring it to committee was nothing more than politics. "If the new man is appointed tonight John Wise does not get a vacation," he said, "and if that isn't politics, what is?"

Mr. Ahia then seconded Supervisor Arnold's amendment to grant the holiday and the amendment carried, whereupon the silent one arose again and extended his thanks to what he called "the insurgent Republicans," referring to Supervisor E. A. Mott-Smith and C. H. Bellina, who are members of the "efficiency party."

Supervisor Ahia's second outburst came when Mr. Mott-Smith moved that the sanitation and health committee be asked to report at the next meeting on combining the office of milk inspector and poi inspector. Ahia declared he had reason to believe that Halvor Myhre had been named by the majority vote of the committee of which he is chairman to fill the office now held by two Hawaiians, John K. Fern and Lot K. C. Lane.

"The Big Four have put the Portuguese out of work and now they are going after the Hawaiians. They want to take away the bread and butter from the mouths of these Hawaiian men with families to give it to a white man. Who ever heard of a white man who could inspect poi?" Mr. Ahia ended his remarks by declaring that he had made up his mind to resign his chairmanship of the health and sanitation committee at the next meeting. Cheering followed.

Supervisor McClellan brought up the question of appointments offering the resolution to rescind the motion of the previous meeting to leave the names on the table until an opinion on the mayor's appointive powers had been given by the city and county attorney. He suggested that the board pass the mayor's appointments and then the board make the same appointments, which was done.

Supervisor Arnold followed these appointments by presenting the names of E. J. Gay and John K. Fern for the position of milk inspector. The nominations were not carried.

DR. SUN YAT SEN
CALLED TRAITOR;
BATTLE IMPENDS

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji)
TOKIO, Japan, Sept. 29.—An expeditionary force from Canton has crossed the Kwantung-Honan boundary and is marching to give the Northern army decisive battle. The Northern army is also reported to be marching southward to head off the progress of the revolutionary force. The Southern force is estimated at tens of thousands.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the famous Chinese liberal leader, who was recently appointed by the Southern revolutionary leaders as the commander-in-chief of the Southern provinces, was today formally charged with high treason by the Peking government. Sun is known to be in Canton, the headquarters of the new revolutionary movement.

SUIT TO STOP
VIERRA'S PAY
DISCONTINUED

As forecast in the Star-Bulletin recently, a discontinuance was filed in circuit court late yesterday afternoon of the injunction suit brought by L. L. ("Link") McCandless, Democratic leader, against city and county officials to hold up the pay of A. K. Vierra, superintendent of public grounds and buildings.

The real motive back of the injunction suit was to secure a court ruling on the scope of the appointive power of the mayor, and to decide the question of whether Republican heads of city departments can hold over in office after a Democratic mayor has nominated persons to fill their places. In spite of the fact that such nominations are urged down by a Republican majority of the board of supervisors.

OSAKA STRUCK BY SEVERE CYCLONE

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji)
TOKIO, Japan, Sept. 29.—Osaka, the second largest city in Japan, was struck yesterday by one of the worst cyclones in many years and heavy damage was done. The rice crop in the country district, which is nearing its harvest, also suffered a heavy damage. Hundreds of houses were wiped clearly off the ground in the wake of the cyclone. Many people in the demolished houses, as well as cattle in the collapsed stables, were injured.

DELINQUENT WATER
PAYERS GIVEN GRACE

Due to the fact that pay-day falls on the last day of the month for a large number of citizens and in order to give others who have suffered an attack of absent-mindedness of change the city waterworks department decided today to extend the time for shutting off the water supply of delinquents until Tuesday night. Scores of those who had not paid their water rates put in an appearance at the Kapiolani building this morning only too eager to retain their water supply. The clerks at the wicket after taking the payment gave each citizen a good survey and then if the delinquent was not wearing a Red Cross badge the high sign was given and before the penitent received his receipt for his tax a representative of the Red Cross buttonholed him and made him join the society.

More than twenty taps were turned off this morning; the delinquent citizens having failed to heed the warning extended them in the last few days.

ALLEGED MURDERER
ACQUITTED BY JURY

After deliberating about two hours, a jury in Circuit Judge Ashford's court yesterday afternoon returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of
